REPAIRS TO ARAMIS

PASSENGERS LANDED AT SHANGHAI

No Danger Of Liner Sinking.

TUGS AND WARSHIPS GIVE ASSISTANCE.

Passengers from the damaged Messageries Maritimes liner, m.v. Aramis, which struck a submerged rock near Steep Island, 210 miles from Shanghai, on Thursday night during a dense fog, were landed at Shanghai yesterday afternoon from a tug which dived to the liner's assistance, states a message received here yesterday afternoon.

According to the message, which originated from the Shanghai office of the Compagnie des Messageries Maritimes, temporary repairs are being undertaken on the damaged No. 4 hold, and as soon as they are completed, the liner will proceed to Shanghai. The ship is in no danger of sinking.

The Shanghai tug Sampson on Friday supplied the disabled liner with two pumps, while the tender Alexandra left at 8 o'clock yesterday morning with about 100 passengers for Shanghai.

SPAIN'S ROYAL EXILES.

Third Son Now Heir Presumptive.

SEQUEL TO MARRIAGE OF DON ALFONSO.

Paris, To-day. It is officially stated that Don Juan, third son of ex-King Alfonso of Spain, has been named the heir presumptive to the Spanish throne.

Don Juan, who is a midshipman in the British Navy, has two elder brothers, Don Alfonso, ex-Prince of Asturias and Don Jaime, both of whom have renounced the title. — Reuter.

The marriage of Don Alfonso, eldest son of ex-King Alfonso of Spain, and a Cuban girl, Señora de San Pedro, took place this week. Ex-King Alfonso refused permission for the marriage on the grounds that the bride is a commoner, also on account of his son's ill-health.

The Prince, by the marriage, renounced his right to the throne.

London, Yesterday. M. Litvinoff the Soviet Foreign Commissar, has agreed to meet the British Foreign Minister, Sir John Simon, at the Foreign Office, on Monday.

ENGLAND SCORE 43 RUNS WITHOUT LOSS

Rain Holds Up First Test.

WALTERS MISSED AT 16.

London, Yesterday. Rain held up the first Test match between England and the West Indies at Lord's to-day. England batted first and scored 43 runs before play was abandoned.

A slight drizzle from 4 a.m. until 9 a.m. left the Lord's wicket unplayable and the umpires did not hesitate to send England in to bat when he won the toss.

As was expected C. F. Walters, the Worcester skipper, accompanied Herbert Sutcliffe to the wicket. Martindale and Francis, fast medium and fast bowlers, opened the West Indian attack.

Rain continued after lunch with regular persistency and a thin layer of water was covering bare patches near the wicket. With no prospect of further play cricket was abandoned for the day.

AGREEMENTS TO BE PROVISIONAL

NOT EFFECTIVE UNTIL CURRENCY TRUCE

WHEAT-PRODUCING COUNTRIES MAY REDUCE PRODUCTION

(Reuter's Special Service).

PARIS, YESTERDAY.

FROM THE PRESENT ATTITUDE OF THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT AT THE WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE, FRANCE IS UNDERSTOOD TO BE READY TO CONTINUE TO COLLABORATE IN THE ECONOMIC SPHERE, PROVIDED THAT ALL AGREEMENTS REACHED WILL ONLY BE EFFECTIVE AFTER STABILISATION OF CURRENCIES HAS BEEN AGREED UPON.

A wheat agreement between the United States, Australia, the Argentine and Canada, is considered imminent in American circles in London.

Canada, the Argentine and the United States have already reached an agreement, and the Australian decision is expected to-night. It is understood that the agreement provides for a reduction in wheat acreage and exports.

DELEGATES TAKE A DAY OFF

Attend at Lord's And R.A.F. Display.

SOVIET NOTE TO GERMANY.

London, Yesterday.

There was practically nothing doing at the World Economic Conference headquarters this morning. Most of the delegates betook themselves either to Lord's cricket ground to watch the Test match against the West Indies, at which His Majesty was an interested spectator, or to Hendon to witness the thrilling performances at the Royal Air Force pageant.

The Soviet Conference circles have confirmed the report that a strong Note of protest against certain references to Soviet Russia contained in Herr Hugenberg's memorandum has been despatched from Moscow to Germany. — Reuter.

Communism Denounced. Herr Hugenberg, leader of the National Party in Germany and Minister of Economics in the Hitler Cabinet, surprised the Economic Conference last week, when in his capacity of leader of the German delegation to the World Conference he made a strong attack against the Soviet Government.

$1,000,000 SCHEMES.

Nanking, Yesterday. The Joint Flood Prevention Conference closed this afternoon after adopting a broad programme, including the division of the Yangtze basin into six districts, which are again sub-divided.

The Provinces shall co-operate through a Flood Prevention Commission.

Preventive measures for the present season are estimated to cost $1,000,000 which shall be borne by Kiangsu, Hupeh, Anhwei, Hunan and Kiangsi, while the Central Government shall make grants if necessary. — Reuter.

British Budget Passed.

COMMONS DEBT CURIOSITY UNSATISFIED.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

London, Yesterday.

The House of Commons yesterday passed the third reading of the Budget by 290 votes to 42 votes, after a debate in which Mr. L. Hore Belisha, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, declined an invitation to make a pronouncement regarding currency and war debts.

Such a pronouncement, he said would be improper in the midst of the World Economic Conference.

LIMITING RUBBER PRODUCTION

Two Opponents Join Committee.

RESTRICTION HOPES.

Amsterdam, Yesterday. The participation of two opponents of forced rubber restriction, Mr. D. Bolderheij and M. Van Leeuwen Boomkamp as members of the International Committee to inquire into the rubber restriction, created here on June 21 at the meeting of the International Association of Rubber Growers and other Dutch East Indies cultivators, is regarded as a hopeful sign.

It is construed that they have at least modified their opposition and are willing to co-operate in the new scheme.

The other members of the Committee are M. Enthoven, who has always favoured restriction, and M. J. C. Kastelyn. — Reuter.

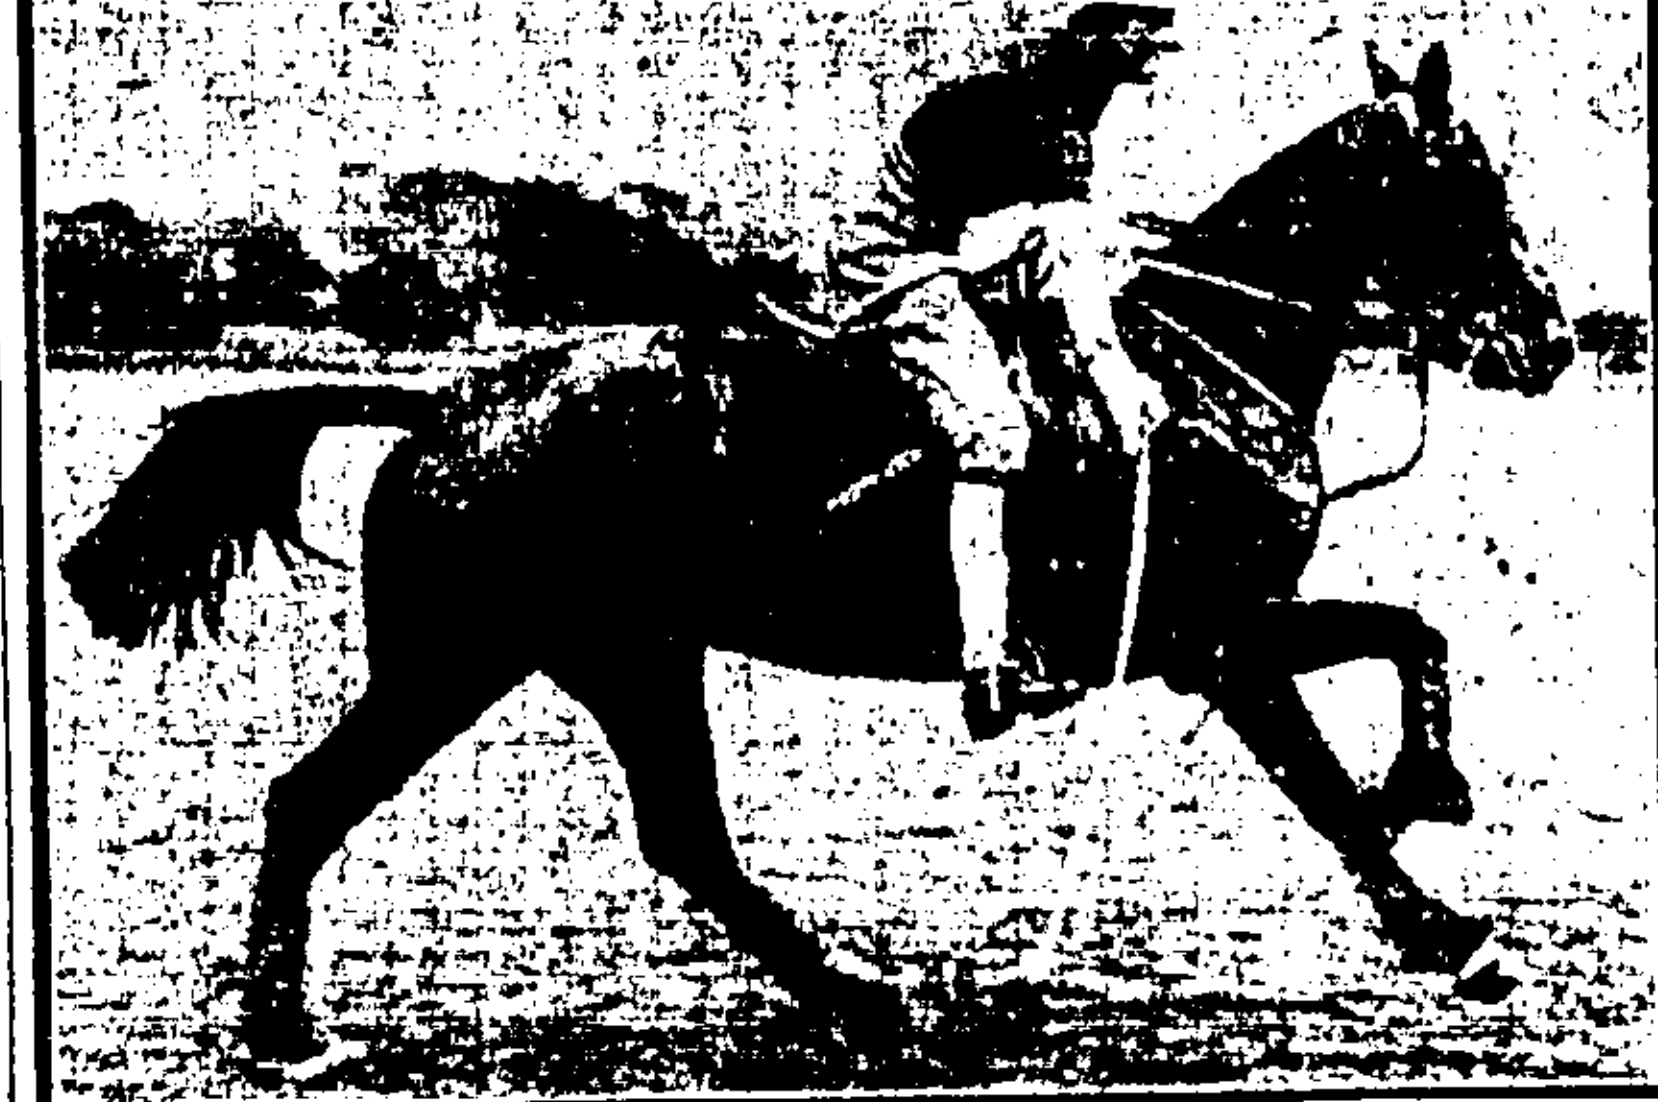

CAPTAIN TURNER PASSES.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

The "Lusitania" tragedy is recalled by the death, yesterday, of the ship's gallant Commander, Captain William Thomas Turner, at the age of 77 years. Captain Turner was one of the best-known captains of the Cunard Line.

Charge Against Welsh Guardsman.

COURT-MARTIAL HELD YESTERDAY

(Reuter's Special Service.)

London, Yesterday. Alleged to have been found asleep while on duty at Windsor Castle by a sergeant during the residence of their Majesties the King and Queen, a soldier of the Welsh Guards, Guardsman Harris, was court-martialled yesterday.

Harris stated that he felt ill and that everything went "black."

Sentence will be promulgated.

NEWSAGENTS AND LIBEL

Liability Established In British Law.

W. H. SMITH AND SON TO PAY £3,000.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

London, Yesterday. The British newsagents' liability in unconsciously handling libellous matter was established in the Law Courts here yesterday, when the well-known wholesale and retail newspaper, magazine and book distributors, Messrs. W. H. Smith and Son, Limited were ordered to pay to the Sun Life Assurance Society of Canada, £3,000 damages.

The libellous statements, which concerned the Sun Life Assurance Society were published in a periodical and included on a poster which Messrs. Smith's distributed to their customers.

Messrs. Smith's contended that it was impossible for them to organise a scrutiny of the journals or posters passing through their hands.

A special jury found the defendants innocent of the knowledge of the libel which appeared in the periodical or poster, but found them guilty of negligence in not knowing that they contained a libel.

NO BOY SCOUTS IN GERMANY

Hitler Dissolves Movement.

NEW "NATIONAL GROUP" FORMED.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

Berlin, Yesterday. The German Boy Scout group and similar organisations in Germany have been dissolved, and their funds and property seized by the order of the "German Youth" leader, Herr Baldur von Schirach, representing Chancellor Hitler.

The Boy Scouts will be welded into a "National Youth" group. Evangelical Boy Scouts are included in the order, but not the Catholic troops.

The British Boy Scout authorities in London state that it is unlikely that they will take action, as the German Boy Scout organisation has never joined the International Committee. The German and the British movements are, however, on quite friendly terms.

MATTEN STILL ALIVE?

S.O.S. Message From Russian Ship.

AMERICAN PILOT MISSING SINCE JUNE 14

(Reuter's Special Service.)

London, Yesterday.

New hope is flickering that Lieutenant James J. Mattern, the 29-year-old American round-the-world flyer, is alive, as the result of a message picked up by amateur radio enthusiasts, who claim to have received the words, "S. O. S. aeroplane" from a Russian vessel.

This terse sentence was followed by a number of Russian words, too garbled to be understood.

Lieut. Mattern who left New York on June 8 in an attempt to beat the round-the-world flight record established by Wiley Post and Frank Gatty, disappeared after leaving Kharbarovsk for Nome, Alaska, on June 14. He had failed in an attempt to make the hop only a few days previously when he was forced to return to Kharbarovsk.

An intensive search by aeroplane and ship was instituted along the North Pacific seaboard and around the Aleutian Islands, where there was a distinct possibility of the flyer having been forced down.

FOREIGN PLANES OVER GERMANY

Insulting Pamphlets Dropped.

PUZZLING OFFICIAL REPORT

Berlin, Yesterday.

The German public are puzzled by an official story of foreign aeroplanes flying over Wilhelmstrasse. The police and Air Ministry report that the planes, which were foreign and unidentified, dropped pamphlets containing insulting remarks about the German Government.

Nevertheless, enquiries at Tempelhof Aerodrome have elicited no knowledge of foreign planes.

The newspapers are ordered to publish a front page statement about aeroplanes that nobody has apparently seen. — Reuter.

No Police Planes.

"IMPOTENT" BY TERMS OF VERSAILLES TREATY.

Berlin, Later.

The official communiqué issued here yesterday in connection with the "mysterious" visitation to Berlin of foreign aeroplanes points out that "no police planes were available to shoot down foreign planes," as Germany is not allowed to possess an air force, by virtue of the Versailles Treaty. — Reuter.

New Demand For Equality.

GERMANY TO RENEW ARGUMENT.

Berlin, Later.

It is officially stated that as a result of the pamphlets dropped from the air on Berlin, Germany will insist at Geneva on equality in air and land armaments. — Reuter.

Socialist Leader Arrested.

NAZIS ACT QUICKLY.

Berlin, Yesterday.

The former Reich President of the German Socialist Party, Herr Paul Loske, was arrested here yesterday afternoon, and also a number of Social Democrats.

The arrests were made in connection with the dissolution of the Socialist Party. — Reuter.

The German Socialist Party in the Reichstag has been prohibited in precisely the same manner as the Nazi Party is prohibited in Austria. (Continued on Page 14.)

AUSTRIA FIRM WITH NAZIS.

Burgomaster Gaoled And Fined.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

Vienna, Yesterday. The Nazi Burgomaster at Kitzbuehl in the Austrian Tyrol has been sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment and fined 1,000 schillings for endeavouring to secure the release of arrested Nazis. He was also sentenced to a further four weeks' imprisonment for decorating the town hall with a black, white, and red flag on the occasion of the visit of foreign journalists.

Tastes Creamy
Looks Creamy
And it is Creamy

When you realise that butter is nothing but milk churned to the right consistency, with salt added for flavour, it is obvious that the first essential is that the milk must be beyond reproach if the butter is to be of first quality.

Daisy Brand Butter is only as good and delicious and creamy as it is because it is made from new, pasteurised milk drawn from cows grazed on healthy Australian pasture land. Daisy Brand is the dominant brand from that home of good butter, where it has been favourite for 32 years. From one year's end to another its quality never varies—the best always.

Taste the creamy goodness of Kraft Cheese once and you will be satisfied there is no better Cheddar Cheese to be had. Packed or cut to convenient weights, every morsel of Kraft Cheese is full of that matured cheddar flavour you particularly like. Hermetically sealed in tinfoil wrapping, Kraft Cheese is the most economical because it has no rind, never gets oily or dry, and keeps fresh longer than other cheeses.

PARCELS OF MONEY

Cargo Or Personal Effects.

TWO CHINESE IN COURT

Leung Sam, 42, and Tong Yiu, 34, employees of the a.s. Tin Ting which arrived from Wuchow yesterday, appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Central Magistracy this morning, charged with importing unmanifested cargo into the Colony, namely two parcels containing about $1,500 in twenty cent pieces, carried by the first defendant, and one parcel containing $1,323.30 in small coins, carried by the second defendant.

Revenue Officer A. W. Grimmett appeared for the prosecution, while the accused were represented by Mr. Peter H. Sin.

Mr. Sin asked His Worship to fix a date for hearing.

Counsel said his submission was going to be whether the parcels were to be taken as personal effects or as cargo.

Mr. Grimmett: We will be able to prove that the parcels were not personal effects.

His Worship: What you have to prove, Mr. Grimmett, is that they were not cargo!

"We will be able to do that too." Hearing of the case was fixed for Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Atkins, Head Mistress at St. Stephen's Girls' School, told Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday morning that boys playing in the neighbourhood of the school are becoming pests.

Miss Atkins was testifying against Yip Ming-yu, 13 years, and Tang Yam-kong, 14 years, who were caught yesterday afternoon climbing over the rails around the school building and pulling branches from a guava tree in order to get the small fruit.

Mr. Schofield fined the boys $10.00 each. "That should make you be good and not damage any more trees," His Worship remarked.

GUARD YOURSELF AGAINST FLU

An unusual form of Influenza is at present prevalent. The attack comes quickly, without any apparent warning. How to PROTECT oneself against the 'FLU' and how to GET RID OF IT are the burning questions of the hour. For quick results and protection there is one answer: That is "TAKE 'ASPRO' at the first symptoms." If you HAVE the 'FLU' 'ASPRO' will enable you to get rid of it in double quick time. 'ASPRO' being an "Anti-Pyretic" (Fever-reducer)—prevents the development of the complaint. It also soothes away the aching pains and banishes that groggy, "weak at the knees" feeling. There is no doubt that 'ASPRO' is the SUPREME MEDICINE for Influenza. YOU can prove this effectively if you just try it. Every home should have 'ASPRO' on hand at this juncture for emergency. 'ASPRO' is sold at all leading Dispensaries. Packets of 5's 20 cents. 10's 40 cents. 27's $1.00.

'ASPRO'

Does Not Harm the Heart

'ASPRO' is Woman's Best Friend

Possibly the greatest users of 'ASPRO' are women, for whom 'ASPRO' has a special charm on account of the varied periodical experiences with which all women are familiar. They surely know just what a wonderful soothing and pain dispeller 'ASPRO' is. Millions of women throughout the World now regularly take 'ASPRO', the safe, sure and effective medicine, to relieve their pain and accompanying physical depression, who before had to resort to dangerous drugs, narcotics or opiates. The understanding woman uses 'ASPRO'.

Change in seasons—sapped vitality—lowered powers of resistance—varying weather conditions, all tend to cause ordinary Colds, which generally attack people at this time of the year. If neglected, a Cold in the head may develop into the dreaded Influenza and, in some instances, into more serious complaints, such as Bronchitis, Pleurisy, and Pneumonia. RESOLVE TO KEEP CLEAR OF THE 'FLU' 'ASPRO' TAKEN IN THE EARLY STAGES, WILL DISPEL COLDS AND INFLUENZA IN 24 HOURS!

You leave home as "fit as a fiddle" but never know the moment when fate will prove unkind in the form of a headache—neuritis or nerve pains, or maybe it will be a rheumatic attack. The slightest derangement of your nervous system may make you feel "nervy" or irritable. The sight of an accident may upset you for the day. In crowds germ contamination may place you in the quick grip of a cold or influenza. The best protection for such emergency is to make certain that you put a few 'ASPRO' Tablets in your pocket or purse BEFORE YOU LEAVE HOME.

Mainly Women

Yokes And Puff Sleeves

Width Through Shoulders Is Achieved

WIDTH through the shoulders is most often achieved with the use of yokes and drop-shoulder effects. In sweaters of solid colours the yoke effect is worked out in a puff stitch or a lacey treatment.

The puff sleeve in all its variations, that is the very short three-quarter and elbow lengths, are seen again and again on the more youthful styles.

With such variety to choose from every woman will wish to include a number of these delightfully becoming and practical garments in her spring wardrobe.

Summer Gloves Are A Luxury

Exotic Fabric For Wearing Once.

ORGANDIE will be one of the exotic cotton fabrics for gloves. Cheap as the material is, these summer accessories will be a luxury, for one cannot imagine them being worn more than once or twice.

Some are quite plain, but others are decorated with little wristlets resembling bracelets of deep blue forget-me-nots and white or yellow primula heads without the foliage. There are navy blue organdie gloves with floral bracelets of yellow, and they may also be in yellow and red.

The white gloves go with little collarette strips of the organdie, which tie in a bow at the back, the short neck surround being banked with flower heads like those seen on the gloves. Wider scarves with an embroidered motif of murguerites at the two ends are simpler styles, an identical motif being worked through the gauntlet cuffs.

Glazed String Jumpers

AN offering for the knitter of jumpers is glazed string, which is sold now by the ball. Red, blue, and green string are all good, bright shades, but the natural colour is smartest and should be worn with black.

"Swagger" Coats Appear

Attractive Weave In Rough Material.

HUGE POCKETS POPULAR

SMART spring coats are rightly called "swagger coats" this year.

Swagger abounds in them. Their new rough materials have now and lovely weaves—grand nubby monotonous, Scotch plaids, pin checks, basket weaves and diamond diagonals, all with style in their make-up. Their styles give verse to the woman wearing them. Their colours are stimulating and zestful.

Whether it's a coat you want—any length will do, though the full-length is most becoming to the majority of women—or whether it is a cape you have set your heart on, the new spring, stoppings have swagger in them.

Whether it's a matter of set-in sleeves, now tight-to-the-neck collars, swanky buttons and buckles, jaunty scarves or tremendous patch pockets, whether there is a detachable cape or a convertible revere that turns into a chin-high collar, if the weather demands—whatever the distinctive thing is about a given new coat, there's swagger in the way it is presented.

Colours range from the favourites, blue and black, to gray, beige, brown and even pastel tones of green and blue.

Some of the new reeferers are smartly double-breasted. Others simply fasten tightly under the throat and hand or flare. Still others have single-breasted fastenings.

Sleeves are both set-in and raglan, though set-in ones predominate. Some are straight and loose, others taper to a tight cuff, still others have added cuffs with detail and flare. Some flaunt fullness and are particularly becoming on tall girls of lean build.

The new fabrics are the high fashion point this year. There's a staunch Scotch or English look to the new tweeds, with novelty weaves, in rough surfaces.

Belges and browns have a soft heather look by the addition of white in their weave and some even have a yellow or a turquoise touch in their make-up, lightening them, and making them lovely. Nothing is lovelier than some of the new plaids which use a number of shades of gray to compose their colour scheme.

Next to the fabrics come the details that make this spring's coats new and charming.

Many of these details give a manish look to coats, and that is all to the good right now. Huge pockets, rounded or oblong, adorn some. Little military capes for collars, made of woollens that are plaid on one side and plain on the other, give distinction to others.

Vaseline Stains Removed

Should Be Treated With Turpentine.

FREQUENTLY when an invalid has been in bed, sheets, pillow-slips, and handkerchiefs are found to be stained with vaseline.

Care should be taken to remove any such stains before the articles are washed, for as soon as the articles are boiled it will be found impossible to remove them.

If, however, the marks are treated with turpentine as soon as they are discovered they will come away with little trouble.

Apply the turpentine liberally to the stains, allowing them to soak for several hours before boiling the articles. After washing all trace will have disappeared.

SPLENDID PRACTICE GAME.

Yesterday's practice baseball game at the Caroline Hill diamond, between South China and the U.S.S. Isabel, proved to be a much better game than was anticipated.

South China won by 16 to 6 in a game full of incident. The scores were:

	R.	H.	E.
South China	16	12	5
U.S.S. Isabel	6	6	1

South China went up to bat first but failed to score. The first three hitters knocked out infield balls and were easily put out.

When the sailors went up to bat and Cinnani laid a fast grounder out into left field it looked as though South China would have to play good baseball to avoid defeat Cinnani and Consiglio both scored in this inning.

In the second inning South China stepped out and scored six runs. Considerable credit for this must go to T. Kim who was put in as a pinch hitter and made a good hit on the third strike to bring in two runners.

In the fourth inning one of the Isabel men knocked a pop-up fly out over third base and the South China short-stop tried to catch it but bumped into the third baseman, both of them losing the ball. The same thing happened in the next inning. Both of these balls belonged to the third baseman.

Pau, of South China, scored the only home run of the game, hitting the ball high and hard out to right field.

T. Chan made a very spectacular catch on first base in the sixth inning. He caught a fast ball one-handed, which was knocked towards him at such a speed that no one thought he would hold it.

South China's Good Finish.

The last of the seventh inning was fast and furious. South China were determined not to let their opponents score any more runs. They put out one of the sailors on first base, and followed by a double play to second and third, putting out both men.

The umpires for the game were Carter and Shofstall, both of whom were from the American Navy.

The players were as follows:
U.S.S. Isabel S. China.

BRILLIANT FEAT AT H.K.I.A.S.A. GALA

SHEK KAM PUI RECORDS ONLY "DOUBLE"

MRS. SCHREUDER'S FINE EFFORT

THE Colony 100 Yards Breast Stroke record of 77 seconds established at the Victoria Recreation Club last year by Kwok Chun-hang of the South China Athletic Association, was last night shattered by the same swimmer in sensational manner. He clocked 73½ seconds at the Hong Kong International Amateur Swimming Association's gala held in the European Y.M.C.A. bath.

The Chinese affiliated Clubs made a clean sweep with the exception of the Ladies' 100 Yards Breast Stroke and the Water-Polo game.

Mrs. A. C. Schreuder of the "Y" Ladies swam a brilliant race to beat Miss Yeung Sau-king, of the South China Athletic Association, by a touch in the Ladies' 100 Yards Breast Stroke event.

Both swimmers swam well and were neck and neck all the way, a final spurt by Mrs. Schreuder in the middle of the last length saw her forge ahead slightly to win by a touch amid scenes of tremendous excitement.

The same two swimmers met in the 50 Yards sprint, but in this event Mrs. Schreuder was unfortunate to come into collision with Miss Pang Shui-ha, of the Chung Sing Benevolent Society, on the turn, the Chinese girl being at fault. Mrs. Schreuder would probably have won the race instead of losing by two feet.

A huge crowd was present for the Association's first gala, among the distinguished guests being Brigadier R.B. Cousins, D.S.O., and Miss Cousins, Commodore H. R. Marrack, D.S.C., R.N., and party, Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, C.M.G., LL.D., President of the Association, Mr. Y. K. Mok, Chairman of the Hong Kong International Amateur Swimming Association and Mrs. Y. K. Mok.

The Y.M.C.A. were very unfortunate not to have the services of Lange in the 200 Yards Relay. He injured himself yesterday afternoon. Schreuder, who took his place, was too slow and lost considerably as first string.

Goldman, who swam No. 2 for the Y.M.C.A., disappointed at the turn and the Y.M.C.A. never fully recovered.

Shek Kam-pui, of the Young Companions' Aquatic Association, performed extraordinarily well to win the 100 Yards Free Style and the 50 Yards Back Stroke to record the only "double" of the evening.

In the latter event he won as the result of a wonderful spurt after being behind at the end of the first length.

New Bath Record.

Shek Kam-pui set a new bath record for the 100 Yards—63½ seconds. A. G. Donn was the previous holder in 65½ seconds.

The Men's 100 Yards Breast Stroke produced some wonderful swimming.

Kwok Chun-hang, the Colony champion lowered his previous best record of 77 seconds by 3½ seconds after an amazing finish, which gave him half a dozen yards to spare.

The Open Diving produced the biggest sensation of the evening, a fourteen year old boy, Mak Wai-ning of the Chinese Civil Servants' Club taking first place with 51 points, while Yeung Tak-ming of South China came second with 45. A. Morrison, the favourite, was third one point behind Yeung.

The Men's team race was one of the most thrilling events on the night's programme. South China took the lead from the start and held on to it in spite of grim opposition from both the Y.M.C.A. and the Chinese Civil Servants' Club.

appointing game, and was ordered out for wrongful tackling.

W. Schreuder, who skipped the European team, was in the limelight of a very unfortunate incident in the latter stages of the game when he struck one of the Chinese backs.

Schreuder was warned, but a few minutes later both Schreuder and Fung Kwok-wa of the South China Athletic Association were ordered out of the bath for fighting.

The Chinese opened the scoring in a sensational manner, Cheong Wing-kwong (S.C.A.A.) getting after 50 seconds' play from the left, the ball slipping out of An-gus's hands.

Grover continually infringes. Grover (R.N.R.C.) was twice warned by the referee for wrongful tackling, but he persisted in playing the man instead of the ball.

Schreuder equalised in great style after three minutes, scoring with a powerful shot which had Wan Kwong-ting (C.B.C.) beaten easily.

Schreuder added his second soon after, when he cleverly deflected a high ball.

Campbell gave the Europeans a clear advantage over their opponents by scoring a very fine goal from an oblique angle.

Grover, who tackled Shek Kam-pui from the swim up, was ordered out for bad tackling, and as a result the Chinese scored their second goal through Lee Yee-long (Y.C.A.A.).

Changing over with a goal lead, the Europeans went further ahead when Schreuder once again cleverly deflected the ball past Wan Kwong-ting from a pass from Kerr.

Another Player Ordered Out. At this stage the tackling of the Chinese backs came under the eye of the referee who ordered Fung Kwok-wa out of the water.

Kerr added the European's fifth goal from point blank range from a pass by Campbell from the half way line.

Two minutes before the end Grover left his charge and Chan

During a scramble from the swim, up, Campbell placed the issue beyond doubt with a fine backhand shot.

Just before the whistle blew both Schreuder and Fung Kwok-wa were ordered out of the water for fighting.

Mr. Ip Koon-im refereed and lined up the following.

The steadiness of Miss Griffiths and the accurate placements of Stapleton were responsible for the straight sets win.

I am a firm believer that each tennis player gradually acquires the grip most suitable to his style of play. If you must change it, be certain first that the defect in your stroke which you are trying to eliminate is really due to your grip, and not to stance or timing. Don't be frightened because your grip is unorthodox. One or two great players held their rackets almost like hammer, and yet achieved great results.

COMPSTON BEATS SARAZEN.

Wins First Of Five Challenge Games.

London, Saturday. Archie Compston, former British Ryder Cup player, has won the first of a series of five matches in a challenge match against Gene Sarazen, the American successor to Bobby Jones.

At Exeter yesterday Compston beat Sarazen by 5 and 4 over 36 holes after the American player had been 2 up at the end of the first 18 holes.

The first-round cards were: Sarazen 68, Compston 71. Sarazen completed the professionals' "double" last year when he won the British and American Open Championships. He also won the U.S. Professionals' title. —Reuter.

HONG KONG, SUNDAY, JUNE 25, 1933.

Mr. Roosevelt's Inconsistency.

WASHINGTON must accept full responsibility for the confusion prevailing at the World Economic Conference and, if the breakdown now threatening the gathering actually occurs, such a collapse would be directly attributable to the Roosevelt administration. The amazing change of policy by the United States Government was totally unexpected and the delegates of the other 65 nations represented at London were thrown into the utmost perturbation, with the inevitable consequence that the adjournment of the Conference is now being contemplated. By refusing to stabilise the dollar-pound exchange, and later rejecting all negotiations for the suggested currency truce, America has doomed the Conference to failure unless the present attitude is changed. The American action was all the more deplorable in that one of the chief American delegates, Mr. James Cox, announced last week-end that a provisional agreement had been reached for temporary stabilisation of the pound-dollar exchange and that a formal announcement was pending. After his envoy has thus committed himself, President Roosevelt delivered his bombshell. In the circumstances the bitter French comment is justified and Americans will find it difficult to answer the charge of the leading Paris newspapers which spoke of "the American habit of disavowing its accredited representatives at international conferences, from President Wilson downwards." The inconsistency of the American action is further demonstrated by the fact that the United States, a high tariff nation, suggested the tariff truce, which has been adopted by 41 nations. Yet the same country is prepared to allow monetary chaos to continue.

The argument that monetary stabilisation would be untimely and likely to retard President Roosevelt's inflationist policy is sound enough, but the trouble lies in the fact that American officials did not frankly announce their aims, but misled the envoys to Washington with professions of international co-operation. Mr. Roosevelt's intervention on Disarmament matters, his conversations with Mr. MacDonald, M. Herriot and other representatives of leading countries, and the efforts of his unofficial Ambassador abroad, Mr. Norman Davis, all indicated that America was changing her traditional policy of isolation. The events of the past week, and the rumours that Mr. Cordell Hull may be replaced as head of the American delegation by Professor Moley, reveal an intention to revert to a purely nationalist policy. American economists are well aware that the Conference is merely wasting time if unstable currency exchanges persist. Trade cannot recover until exchange restrictions are removed. Freer international exchange of money implies a freer exchange of the goods and service of which it is the token, and the converse is equally true. Tariff, monetary, and all economic problems are interwoven and re-establishment of some degree of stability is essential to break the vicious circle. For example, a considerable fall in the franc value of the dollar might conceivably reduce the protective action of the French tariff to such an extent as to make counter-action necessary. That action may well be abandonment of the gold standard by France, a step which would accentuate the present chaotic conditions. But the greatest danger lies in the possibility of a race between nations for depreciated currencies, a contest which would prove disastrous to the United States and the whole world.

The Roosevelt administration will have to clarify its position and declare its policy, national or international. If the former, that is her own affair, just as the results of her policy of inflation would be almost exclusively a domestic matter. If America is to choose the wiser course, then immediate evidence of co-operation is imperative, and the first and most urgent problem is that of currency stabilisation. It is difficult to judge the purpose of the present American policy but the most likely theory is that America is playing for time during which the dollar will be depreciated to such an extent that she may fix the exchange rate at her own level. When stabilisation was first mentioned, two months ago, a rate of between $3.50 and $4 to the pound was suggested. Last week, the figure was $4.05, and now the latest rate mentioned is $4.40. The explanation of Mr. Roosevelt's actions would seem apparent.

"LOCAL PADRE'S ARTICLES."

[To the Editor "Sunday Herald."]

Dear Sir,—With reference to the letter appearing in your last issue, I too, feel that I must thank you for the article written by a "Local Padre", and especially for that appearing last Sunday.

As one approaching three score years and ten, I can appreciate what your contributor writes, and I hope he will be able to continue his most helpful discussions, which though I shall not be reading them, as I am but a "bird of passage", must do much to lighten those who find much to deplore in the present day attitude—whatever that of the past may have been—to the ideal which our Faith imposes upon those who bear the name of Christian.

Hoping that you will still continue to hold the torch aloft,
"A TRAVELLER."

FILM STAR CLAIMS £1,500

Sequel To Injury While Starting Race.

"LOSS OF PRESTIGE"

Cologne. Kaethe von Nagy, the Hungarian film star, is claiming £1,500 from the proprietors of the Sports Hall here as compensation for an injured index finger.

The film star was injured in firing a pistol to start a six days' bicycle race in the Sports Hall last December and despite careful medical attention at Cologne hospital the wound refused to heal. Eventually an operation had to be performed on the finger and two months elapsed before the actress felt able to resume her film work.

The Ufa film company with whom she was under contract, continued to pay her salary, but the actress is claiming compensation for loss of prestige during the two months enforced rest when she was prevented from playing in the French version of "Star of Valencia" and from fulfilling an engagement in Holland.

Falling a satisfactory settlement with the Sports Hall the actress, it is understood, will take her claim to the courts.—Reuter.

TREASURE HUNT FAILS.

Expedition Nearly Ends In Disaster.

London. A year ago nine Englishmen left Brixham, Devonshire, in a 35-ton yacht to search the Spanish Main and the Cocos Island for lost gold. But the treasure hunt has failed and the men are returning without the gold—or their yacht.

"The poor old Vigilant is not seaworthy at present; the worms have eaten away the bottom and she is leaking badly," writes Lieut.-Commander F. C. Finnis, R.N., the boatswain.

The treasure-hunting expedition was abandoned after the Vigilant left Chile for Balboa and developed a leak. The crew were on the verge of starvation until a passing steamer gave them food and water. They were towed into port in the Frailes Islands and buffeted by gales in the gulf of Panama.—Reuter.

DROWNED—IN A SAUCEPAN

Prague. The four-year-old son of an innkeeper at Techlovic saw a huge pot in which his mother was cooking cabbages. He lifted the lid, slipped, and fell in.

Nobody saw him and nobody heard him cry. He was found some time later—drowned.—Reuter.

TOPICS

OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

May 24.

The opening of the season's pigeon racing gives the King another interest in summer sport. In the Royal loft at Sandringham there are some five dozen pigeons, and they are frequently entered in races with considerable success.

The late King Leopold of Belgium was responsible for the development of the Royal loft. In his country, of course, pigeon racing is very popular, and he it was who presented to the King the nucleus of his carriers.

Now the pigeon world races regularly for the King's cup, which are the envy of all pigeon owners.

Dancing in Harbour.

The first charity ball ever given on a great liner, namely, the Majestic took place recently at Southampton docks.

The experiment was a great success, both in the numbers it attracted and in the novelty of the entertainment it offered. Distance, nowadays, has lost its terrors, and it was most revealing to observe how many parties had motored down from London.

Few hotels on land can boast a ball-room the size of that carried by the world's largest liner. Few dance organisers can offer, as an added inducement to purchase tickets, that bed and breakfast, plus a dip in the swimming pool, included in the programme.

Highteous Indignation.

At supper many people were astounded that the great dining saloon could accommodate all the guests for supper at a single sitting. But a lady horrified the gymnasium instructor, temporarily turned wine steward, by commenting adversely on some of the pictures.

They were, he pointed out proudly, part of the ship's permanent exhibition valued at £125,000.

From the deck were observed signs of the effect which cruising is having on shipping policy.

Even the gallant old Mauretania is being painted white—in readiness for participation in that business.

Mr. Jardine and the Flies.

One of the Test team cricketers related the following example of the Sydney "barracking" to which the English captain was subjected. During a dull moment in the last Sydney Test Mr. Jardine tried to drive away a cloud of flies which were buzzing round his head.

Suddenly a stentorian voice rang out from the famous Hill: "Don't swat those poor flies, Mr. Jardine. They're the only friends you've got in Australia."

No Moses.

Colonel R. H. Beadon, whose "Some Memories of the Peace Conference" has just been published, has produced an unpretentious but thoroughly readable book. The story best liked was not about the Peace Conference, but about the war.

It concerned an Australian colleague of the author, Lieut.-Colonel Brinsmead, who incidentally was probably the only Allied officer to receive an arrow wound in the war: that was in German New Guinea.

Brinsmead was leading a route march in Sinai when his men began to "grouse" because of thirst. He halted them near a heap of boulders and made this speech:

"Three thousand years ago another army was crossing this desert, and like you the men started shouting for water. Their C. O. halted them just here and went over and touched that rock, and water sprang forth.

"Well, boys, I ain't no ruddy Moses."

Players' Earnings.

Dame Madge Kendal's comment recently on "the large sums of money paid to actors and actresses to-day, sums that in my wildest dreams I never thought of," is not, surely, supported by facts. If the records of theatrical history are reliable.

The veteran actress revealed that when she was at the Haymarket her salary ranged from £10 to £15 a week. It is true she was playing such parts as Ophelia; but in 1865 she was a girl of only seventeen, and her great reputation was yet to come.

In the old days of the theatre those who were not "stars" certainly earned far smaller salaries than their modern successors. But the money earned by the great folk was often enormous. Edmund Kean was making at least £10,000 a year at his zenith, and was at one time receiving £150 a performance. Kemble at Covent Garden, was paid for a season £80 a night. David Garrick's will was proved at £120,000.

A Rugger Viking

Dr. Lennard Stokes, who recently died at the age of seventy-seven, was perhaps the greatest of the English pioneers of Rugby football. His name lives as the most shining example of all that is best in British sportsmanship. It is a tribute to his character that he was almost as popular with the Scottish crowd as he was with his own countrymen.

He played six times for England against Scotland. Two of the occasions are historic. The match of 1878 the first for the famous Calcutta Cup, and ended in a draw of one goal each, the English goal being kicked by Stokes.

During the match which was played in Edinburgh, the Englishmen were twice hissed or stepping over their line and touching down. Stokes soon put things right. Spurning "safety-first" tactics, he ran with the ball from behind his own goal line and received a great ovation from the Scottish crowd.

Turning Up One Short.

Stokes's last match against Scotland was also played in Edinburgh—in 1881. It was, perhaps, the most remarkable in the whole series of Anglo-Scottish encounters.

England turned up a man short, and the vacant place was given to an Edinburgh Academy schoolboy. It was the first time a schoolboy played for England, and, as Scotland's team also included an Academy schoolboy, the only occasion on which one school has had two of its boys playing in the same international.

Stokes kept up his interest in Rugger to the end. His latter years were spent in poverty and—great physical pain, both borne with unflinching courage.

Li Hung Chang

Mr. Maxton's latest story: Li Hung Chang, from China, visited a Clyde shipyard. There were hopes that he would give an order. He was in one of the yards at one o'clock when the hooter sounded. All the workmen dropped their tools and dashed off to dinner.

Li Hung Chang was very upset. "They have all escaped," he cried. "What will you do? They will not come back."

"Don't worry," answered the manager. "They will come back all right."

At two o'clock, when Li Hung Chang was still in the yard, the hooter sounded again and the visitor was amazed at the spectacle of the workmen trooping back.

"What did I tell you?" said the manager. "The hooter always brings them back. Now, sir, what about that ship you were thinking of ordering?"

"Never mind the ship," replied Li Hung Chang. "How much do you want for the hooter?"

Entertaining Archaeology.

Professor J. L. Myres, who received an honorary degree from Manchester University recently, has a gift rare among archaeologists.

He can bring the bleached bones of the past to life by his extraordinary descriptive capacity. His reconstructions of ancient history from one brick or fragment of pottery are infinitely entertaining.

He once announced a series of lectures on "The Foreign Policy of Isabella of Tyre." It was only when the lecturer was well into his stride that his pupils realised that the lady in question was none other than their old friend, Jezebel.

LOOSE CLOTHES AND MORALS

The Growing Style Of Negligence

When Men Really Dressed

(By A.A.B.)

London. THIS premature Midsummer has awakened rebellion in an undisciplined age against the restraints of tight clothing, as derogatory to the dignity of man, and unfair to the beauties of women. That portion of the community which is beyond the range of authority, errand boys, young clerks, outside the office, and generally speaking all youths between 16 and 21, already appear hatless and with the Byronic collar, buttonless, tieless and thrown wide open. This style of negligence should, I think, be associated with Shelley, who entered his wife's dining-room from a dip in the sea without troubling to put on any clothes—"my dear Percy"—than with Byron. However, let that be.

I understand that our soldiers have been given a most slovenly undress or fatigue uniform, without any kind of collar or stock, while subalterns in the Guards wear plus fours which I consider an outrage, however well cut they may be.

Postmen have already achieved their liberty in the form of soft open collars, though they are still obliged to button their coats. I fancy, while the police stick to their stocks like men.

Into the shameless nudities of the modern woman the bare back and the audacities of the Palm Beach costume, I forbear to enter, lest my ignorance or my anger should get the better of my pen. "Arms and the Man I sing."

Efficient Dignity. I should like, however, to point out in all seriousness to my contemporaries that there is a great deal more in the connection between form and fitness, if you like, discomfort even in clothes and efficient dignity than the light thinking of the present day seems prepared to allow. Let us not forget that Marlborough galloped about the field of Blenheim with his peruke tied under his chin; and that Wellington's veterans drove the French out of Spain in stiff stocks, tight uniforms, shakoes and bearskins, that would raise a mutiny in the modern ranks. Yet when the Duke was asked by the intrepid Creevey what was his chance of winning Waterloo, he pointed to Tommy in his tight uniform staring at the statues in the park at Brussels, and said: "It all depends on that man. If I have enough of that sort, I shall do."

You may abhor, as hot and absurd, the lawyer's wig and gown; but, depend upon it you will get worse law from the bald pate. The familiarity and indecency of American courts of law is well known.

Did our forbears shoot worse or play cricket worse because they did so in top hats? On the contrary, if history does not lie, they did both better.

I have before me a coloured print of the Duke of Beaufort in 1822. The Duke was then a great West Country magnate, master of foxhounds, and a real dandy. His trousers are tightly strapped over his boots, he wears a tightly-buttoned swallow-tail coat, gloves, and a top of wondrous dimensions. I have also a print of the first Lord Leconfield, dressed all in black, with an enormous white stock.

Men really dressed in those days. Nothing but costume could have supported the Duke of Somerset's rebuke to his second wife, who tapped him on the arm with her fan: "Madam, my first wife was a Percy, and she never took that liberty."

Gladstone's Collars. To come to our own times, Gladstone's stiff enormous shirt collars were a joy to the cartoonist, and largely contributed to his popularity, for as somebody shrewdly observed the other day the British public likes a statesman who can be easily cartooned. The collars were very uncomfortable, as anyone who saw the old gentleman tugging at them when speaking can testify.

Diarrhoea was very much the same collar, but he had other means of attracting the caricaturist. Neither ever complained. Contrast the rigid tenue of these two giants, still more the silk stockings of Mr. Pitt, who had to borrow Lady Hester's shawl to keep himself warm—with the modern lounge suit and the inevitable pipe of our statesmen of to-day!

Oh, but the modern style is so much more comfortable! Of course it is, but comfort is not everything. I sympathise with the subaltern who has grown to be a major and cannot button his tunic. But there are, or ought to be, limits to the concessions to comfort. Believe me, the old Philistiae or Puritan prejudice against the loose trousers and ties and long hair of Chelsea and Bloomsbury was a sound one, though exploded to-day, when artists, critics, poets and other high-brows dress as other folk, and have lost their high-browness.

It is as sound a prejudice—most prejudices are sound as Bismarck's suspicion of any man who spoke a foreign tongue as well as his own. "Where did So-and-So," he asked of an attaché, "learn to speak French so well? In billiard rooms and casinos. Odd Russell is the only man I know whose French is perfect and who isn't a scoundrel." Allowing for exaggeration, the old man's judgment was right.

The Shabby Marquess. There is a marquess, "whom, pardon me, I do not mean to name," as Antony said, who in grande tenue, with his riband and star at the head of his stirrup, looks exactly what he is. Meet him in the street, on a week-day, you would take him for a stock-broker's clerk who had lost his job.

The jokes current about the late Duke of Norfolk's homely appearance and dress were countless. This is all wrong. A man ought, within limits, to appear what he is. I do not suggest that peers should stroll down Bond-street in (Continued on Page 7.)

WISE & OTHERWISE

NATURALLY.

"Most judges are brief and to the point," remarks a writer. They are, of course, in the place where short sentences are most appreciated.

KNOWS IT ALL.

BOOK AGENT: Now, sir, this volume of universal knowledge will tell you everything you ought to know.

HOUSEHOLDER: No good to me—my wife tells me all that, and a lot more besides.

HINT FOR NOVICES.

It is an unwritten law of the air that when a pilot crashes but is uninjured he must go up again immediately. So if at first you don't succeed fly, fly, fly again.

One More.

And then there was the absent-minded professor who kissed the clock and tried to stop his wife because she was a bit fast.

Saying It With Soup.

A famous London restaurant is to abolish its orchestra. The diners, apparently, could hardly hear themselves eating.

NOT REVEALED.

A Thames barge was recently given chloroform while a minor operation was performed. Owing to strict medical etiquette, details of what the barge said when coming out of the anaesthetic are not available.

BIFF!

The accent seems to be on the HIT-ter.

JUDGED BY THE BEST.

FOREMAN (on excavating job): Do you think you are fit for real hard labour?

APPLICANT: Well, some of the best judges in the country have course. They can travel on the other side of the boardings.

CHIC-ago. American gangsters are said to dress well.

SUDDEN STORY.

Didn't see "Road up" board. Biff—bang—wallop! K's ward.

Watch Your Step. Statistics taken in America show that 82 per cent. of marriages are arranged at dances. Gee! I'd no idea dancing was as dangerous as that.

NO FOOLING HIM.

A man arrested for drunkenness was said to have been discovered with his arm around a lamp post, shouting, "Let me in." When told that nobody lived there he said, "Don't lie. There's a light upstairs."

PUSHING TOGETHER.

A new restaurant is to have an escalator to convey patrons out—consider some of the cake a man slide. An excellent idea. So many does have to take for peace and selfish people don't push their quietness sake.

Unrestricted Views.

"Hikers see more of the scenery than motorists," says a writer. Of best judges in the country have course. They can travel on the other side of the boardings.

JUST RAMBLES ON.

"My wife can talk for hours on one subject." "My wife doesn't even need a subject."

Just Worth Noting.

A moralist observes that no man was ever as big a fool as his wife considered him; and it's only fair to point out that no man yet was as fine a fellow as he reckoned himself.

Soliloquy of 1933.

Yes, that heap of bricks was our house, until the wife tried to put the airplanes into its shed on the roof.

JUST A THOUGHT.

If old Mother Hubbard were alive to-day she'd have gotten the idea it wasn't hygienic to keep bones in the cupboard and poor old Hubbard wouldn't have had any peace till he was paying instalments on a £30 refrigerator.

Well, That's Something. Strawberries, according to a newspaper, are neither fruits nor berries. It is understood, however, that they are strawberries.

Count Your Blessings.

"You can't eat your cake and have it," thank goodness, when you consider some of the cake a man slide. An excellent idea. So many does have to take for peace and selfish people don't push their quietness sake.

Folklore You Never Hear.

DEFENSIVE BIDDING

In almost all the examples of successful bidding given in books and articles the silence of the opponents is presumed. The Declarer and his partner, often after elaborate "conversation," and exchange of information, finally arrive at the best contract for their joint hands. No effort is made to stop them or to throw their machinery out of gear. It is true that the atrociously named "psychic" bid has been devised by the Americans as one measure of defence. But its use, involving as it does deception of partner, is of doubtful value. It is, as a rule, penetrated easily and it can best be dealt with by leaving the perpetrator alone and not giving him a chance of extricating himself from his self-made difficulties. The "psychic" bidder relies always upon his false call being doubled or on further bidding which will give him a second chance. Frequently on examination it will be found that the so-called psychic bid was unnecessary and dangerous, while a genuine bid initially would have served a better purpose.

The timely defensive bid, which has been well named as the "interposing" bid, has three objects. First, it is designed when made on a minimum to prevent the original Declarer and his partner arriving at a game contract, or perhaps a slam contract. Secondly, when of greater strength, its purpose may be to egg opponents on to over-bidding, and thirdly, it may be used to indicate a favourable lead in a suit in which a sacrificial bid may be made to save a game or a partial score. The question of vulnerability, of course, arises. When the opponents are vulnerable and you are not, a defensive bid should be made on a minimum. A further consideration is the position of the bidder, whether second, third or fourth hand.

As a rule the fourth hand player or after both opponents have called is in the most favourable position for a defensive bid. Thus Z bids One Heart; A, No bid; Y, Two Hearts. If B is ever going to call at all he should make his defensive bid now.

The following is an example from duplicate play:

Y:—
S—A, 5, 4, 2.
H—9, 6.
D—10, 7, 3, 2.
C—Q, 10, 5.
A:—
S—3, 3.
H—A, K, J, 8, 3.
D—A, J, 6, 4.
C—A, 8.
Z:—
S—Q, J, 10, 8, 7.
H—5, 4.
D—K, 8.
C—K, J, 6, 4.
B:—
S—K, 6.
H—Q, 10, 7, 2.
D—Q, 9, 5.
C—9, 7, 3, 2.

A B vulnerable; Y Z invulnerable. A deals.

Table 1.—The bidding. — A One Heart; Y No bid; B Two Hearts; Z No bid; A Three Hearts; Y No bid; B Four Hearts. All pass. A makes Four Hearts with the loss of a Spade, a Diamond and a Club.

Table 2.—A One Heart; Y No bid; B Two Hearts; Z Two Spades; A Three Hearts; Y and B No bid. In this case Z's interposing bid of Two Spades had the desired effect. B considered reasonably that in raising once he had indicated the full value of his hand. He could not know or suspect that his King of Spades was a winner as on the bidding he placed the Ace with Z and he had practically no outside strength.

By another set of players the bidding was A One Heart; Y No bid; B Two Hearts; Z No bid; A Three Hearts; Y No bid; B Four Hearts; Z Four Spades; A Double. Here Z was severely punished, losing a Spade, two Hearts, two Diamonds, and a Club—450 points. Although this penalty may be regarded as just worth while to save the game, the point is that Z deferred his bid until too late. If made on the first round it might have the necessary effect, as at Table 2 in fact it had. Postponed, it converted a defensive bid into a sacrificial bid. Hence the principle that defensive bids should be made early if at all. Nothing is won by waiting.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC

SWEEPS THROUGH SHAMSHUPO

200 OF LINCOLNE AFFECTED

During the past three weeks a serious influenza epidemic has been raging amongst the men of the Lincolne. The regiment is stationed at Shamshupo Camp.

Over 200 men have been confined to their quarters, with a number of the men being sent to hospital.

There have been 100 deaths at the camp as a result of the epidemic.

Attention is drawn to the fact that the Army medical authorities have issued the following advice:—

There is no need to be alarmed by the epidemic, as it is only a matter of time before it will be brought under control.

AS will be seen by the newspaper reports published below, a serious wave of 'Flu' is now threatening the community. An epidemic is feared. How to protect yourself against the 'Flu' and how to get rid of it are the most important questions of the hour. Thousands already know that they have prevented the 'Flu' by taking "ASPRO." It quickly banishes influenza if it has been contracted. They KNOW that having caught the 'Flu', the next best thing to do is to get rid of it — and the QUICKEST WAY to do so is to take "ASPRO."

The 'Flu' does not give much warning. You have to be quick and alert to combat it. Keep "ASPRO" in your pocket, purse, or your Home for emergencies. The 'Flu', temperature — aching pains — grogginess, etc., will yield to the quick — effective and soothing influence of "ASPRO." Simply taking "ASPRO" according to the directions in the packet.

8-Year-Old Girl Operator
Youngest In Country.

GAINS HIGH MARKS

Baltimore, Maryland.

An eight-year-old girl who had to sit on a thick dictionary so that she could reach the table top, has been licensed as a wireless operator here.

The girl, Jean Hudson, was given a rating of 80 per cent. by the Government examiners at Federal Radio Headquarters at Fort McHenry here. She is believed to be the youngest licensed operator in the United States.

The examiner started the tests by sending 10 words a minute, but Jean was far ahead of him.

Then he speeded up his sending to 15 words a minute, and then to 20, the requirement for a commercial license. But the little blonde girl was with him all the way.

Next came the technical tests, in which the youthful applicant was required to explain the fundamental workings of the short wave radio, describe the construction of a sending and receiving set and spell the names of all the component parts.

She needed 75 marks to pass, but she got 80.

Jean's father is a licensed amateur operator, and her 14-year-old brother received his license a year ago.—Reuter.

World History On A Stick

Valuable Acquisition
For London Museum.

AN UNKNOWN ARTIST

London.

The story of the world is told on a staff no bigger than a walking stick which has just been acquired by the Victoria and Albert Museum, South Kensington.

It is regarded as one of the most valuable acquisitions for a long time, for the carvings on the staff or "crozier" appear to associate it with Northern France, and to date from the 18th Century.

Scenes from the Old Testament are worked upon it with meticulous care, beginning with the Creation (at the base) and ending with the fall of Sodom and Gomorrah (at the top).

The artist is unknown, but he has cut vivid little representations of God talking to the Angels, the animals going into the Ark, the creation of Adam and the advent of Eve, the Temptation (which is a curious form of Serpent rather than a monkey with an over-developed tail), the Angel with the flaming sword standing at the Gates of Paradise after the expulsion, Eve spinning and Adam delving and other episodes.—Reuter.

THE SPICE OF LIFE

The Spaniard Jose Ortega, in a new book called "The Revolt of the Masses," says:—"Nowadays we no longer know what is going to happen in our world; but this causes us a secret joy; because that very impossibility of foresight, that horizon ever open to all contingencies, constitute authentic life, the true fullness of our existence."

PACKARD

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

"STYLE," as applied to the Packard, has always meant something more.

Associated with it, logically and distinctively, is the other important word, "enduring"—a Packard characteristic for a third of a century.

So gradually and correctly has Packard style evolved—like the slow unfolding of a beautiful flower—it has never been at the mercy of that capricious mood which too often alienates to-morrow's style from that of to-day.

Thus spoke Lily Damita, featured the picture was made.

Delighted with New Role.

The hoydenish little French girl, star in the "Follies Bergere" and in the recent New York revue, "Sons
O' Guns" by arrangement with Samuel Goldwyn, in a cute combination of American-English inter-persed with French, said that "it is a relief to be away from the 'operas' of the wide open spaces. I don't know how to portray them. But, ah, when it comes to being a Parisian modiste, married to a middle-aged millionaire, who unwittingly falls in

She directs the organization of she makes the most of every delicate, subtle moment.

"And I love it, love, love it," she cried, after she had seen some of

FENG REFUSES TO RELINQUISH C.-IN-C. TITLE

Intends To Capture
Dolonor.

SUNG STILL IN PEKING.

Peking, To-day.
It appears there still remains considerable doubt as to Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang's real intentions.

A. delegate from General Sung Chieh-yuan returned here from a visit to the Christian General in Kalgan bearing a letter to General Sung in which Marshal Feng states that he would welcome the return of General Sung to Kalgan to resume the Chairmanship of Charhar, but regrets that he cannot abolish his title of Commander-in-Chief of the People's Anti-Japanese Allied Army and that he proposes to send forces shortly to effect the capture of Dolonor from the Manchukuo forces.

General Sung is at present in Peking and there is no sign of his imminent departure for Kalgan.

He is still conferring with General Huang Fu and General Ho Ying-ching and it is unlikely that he will proceed to Kalgan until Marshal Feng abolishes his self-given title. — Reuter.

LEFT HONG KONG ON TUESDAY

The m.v. Aramis, the crack vessel of the Messageries Maritimes, arrived in Hong Kong at 8 a.m. on Tuesday last, on her outward journey and left for Shanghai at 4 p.m. the same day.

The Aramis is the second M.M. liner to meet with a mishap in Far Eastern waters, within a fortnight. The s.s. Porthos which should have connected with the m.v. Aramis on Tuesday last in Hong Kong, fractured a propeller shaft when on her way to Shanghai. She is now undergoing repairs at Takoo Docks and is expected to leave for Saigon tomorrow morning.

It is expected that the Aramis will be brought to Hong Kong for repairs.

Luxurious Vessel

The Aramis which is under the command of Captain Sibani, is a sister ship of the ill-fated Georges Phillipar which was burned in the Red Sea with a heavy loss of life. She has a net tonnage of 15,500 tons and is a steel twin screw vessel, fitted with oil engines.
The overall length is 642 feet, width 69 feet, with a beam of 47 feet.
She was built and completed in 1931 by the Forc. Ch. de la Méditerranée for the Societe Des Messageries Maritimes.

Built on the same lavish scale as her ill-fated sister ship, the Aramis is one of the most luxuriously appointed vessels on the Marseilles-Shanghai run.

3. JAPANESE FISHERMEN FOUND SHOT

Strong Tokyo Protest
To Moscow.

SOVIET APOLOGY MAY BE DEMANDED

Count Uchida, the Japanese foreign minister, has ordered Ambassador Ota at Moscow vigorously to protest against the slaying of three Japanese fishermen on the east coast of Kamchatka on June 14, reserving "all rights of future action."

These, a foreign office spokesman explained, included probable demands for an apology, indemnity and punishment of the slayers, whom the Japanese said they believed were probably members of the GPU, or Soviet secret police.

The incident, widely publicized here, has seriously beclouded the recently-improved Japanese-Soviet relations on the eve of the conference on the sale of Russia's rights in the Chinese Eastern railway to Manchukuo.

According to a report from the Japanese destroyer, Tachikaze, the fishing boat Fumi Maru seeking to replenish its water supply approached the Kamchatka coast and sent three men ashore in a small boat.

Unidentified persons on shore opened up such a heavy fire that the vessel was compelled to weigh anchor and flee, leaving the trio in the small boat to their fate.

The Fumi Maru by wireless summoned the Tachikaze, which reported finding three bullet-riddled bodies stretched on the beach.

Soviet representatives here explained that there have been recent disorders in the Kronotski region and that the Soviet authorities possibly were not responsible. Both sides have launched an extensive investigation.

Japanese-Soviet relations, strained for months because of Japanese military operations along the Soviet border of Manchuria and the dispute over operation of the strategic Chinese Eastern railway, have been improved recently followed Moscow's expression of willingness to sell its rights in the line to Manchukuo. Representatives for the forthcoming conference here were appointed last week. — A. P.

MEDIATION FAILS.

Canton, Yesterday.
The strike of Chinese seamen aboard steamers of the China Navigation Company, Ltd., has extended to Swatow, Pakhoi and Hoihow where steamers of that company cannot be loaded and unloaded.
All crews employed here on the steam launches, tenders, and lighters of the China Navigation Company have left their work. Even those employed in the power station are also on strike.

The Canton Seamen Union has issued a circular message asking the merchants in Canton and elsewhere to give the strikers material and moral support, pointing out that the maltreatment by the China Navigation Company to Chinese employees is unbearable.

The British Consular authorities here, and Dr. Kan Chieh-hou, Inspector General of Foreign Affairs, are trying to mediate but their efforts have so far achieved no results.

The latest arrival to-day is the s.s. Lian, which came from Hong Kong and Shanghai. She came here merely on scheduled run, and there is no likelihood that her cargo will be unloaded here. — Central Press.

ENGLAND SCORE 43 RUNS WITHOUT LOSS.

Walters opened the scoring when he turned Martindale to leg for two. Sutcliffe was struck a nasty blow on his left hand by a ball from Martindale. The wicket, however, was playing very easily.

Walters gave a red hot chance to Grant, the West Indian captain, off G. Francis when 16.

Only 43 runs were scored before rain caused play to be abandoned. Walters was then 21 and Sutcliffe 19.

Semi-Final Results
London, Friday.
The American challenge was frustrated when Scott beat George Dunlap, the American Walker Cup player, by 4 and 3 in the Semi Final Round.

They were level at the turn and it was only Scott's brilliant play on the greens, on the homeward round that gave him such a handsome victory.

Bourn eliminated Cyril Tolley, winner in 1920 and 1929, on the twentieth green. — Reuter.
